- The evaluation of strategies for continued expansion in the Company's product development plans including an increase in capital

7. Operating and financial review

Overview of the consolidated entity

The consolidated entity incurred a loss for the year of $385,596.

Revetec Holdings Limited was incorporated for the purpose of the restructure of Revetec Limited. On 4 August 2005 the company acquired Revetec Limited as part of a restructure of the ownership of the CCE design technology. On 13 September 2005, Revetec Holdings Limited acquired the CCE design technology and all associated patents, copyright and other intellectual property rights from Revetec Limited. The net acquisition consideration was $203,000 and included the acquisition of 100% of the issued capital of Revetec International Pty Ltd and Revolution Engine Technologies Pty Ltd.

As outlined in notes 1, 1(d)(i) and 23 the restructure, the acquisition and disposal of Revetec Limited has been treated as a business combination – reverse acquisition, and no gain or loss on the acquisition or disposal have been recorded in the consolidated financial statements. This reflects the requirements of AASB 3 that in situations where a number of existing entities are combined with a new entity, an existing entity shall be deemed to be the acquirer, subject to consideration of factors such as relative fair values of the entities involved in the transaction. This is commonly referred to as a reverse acquisition.

On 9 November 2005 the Company entered into a loan facility under a convertible note arrangement with Douglas John Lomas, as Trustee for the Centre Management Trust. The facility is a maximum of $2 million, with a term of 3 years from first draw down. There is no interest applicable during this term on amounts drawn down. No amounts were drawn down at 30 June 2006.

The Lender has the option to convert all or part of loan monies drawn down at any point in time into ordinary shares within 3 years from the date of the first draw down at the lower of 20 cents per share or at a 10% discount to the average price of the ordinary shares traded for a period of 5 consecutive trading days on the Newcastle Stock Exchange immediately prior to the date of the exercise of the option. Upon conversion of all or part of the loan, the company's liability to pay that portion of the loan will be discharged.

On 19 January 2006 the company issued 2,183,031 shares at 40 cents raising $873,212. The costs associated with the share issue were $385,695, which were offset in equity against the proceeds of the share issue.

On 31 January 2006 the company listed on the Newcastle Stock Exchange.

Significant changes in the state of affairs

In the opinion of the directors, other than outlined in the review of operations, there were no significant changes in the state of affairs of the consolidated entity that occurred during the financial year under review.

For the period 4 August 2005 to 30 June 2006

8. Dividends

No dividends have been paid or declared by the company since the start of the financial year. No recommendation for payment of dividends has been made.

9. Events subsequent to reporting date

Subsequent to the balance sheet date, the Company amended the convertible note arrangement with Douglas John Lomas, as Trustee for the Centre Management Trust. The amended facility provides funding to a maximum of $1.95 million with requirements to draw down specified amounts and convert into ordinary shares as follows:

- The sum of $350,000 shall be drawn no later than 7 August 2006 and such amount shall be immediately converted into ordinary shares at 4.5 cents per share.
- A further sum of $950,000 shall be drawn down monthly to a maximum of $20,000 per month to match the Australian Government's dollar for dollar commercial ready grant and as each sum is received the same shall be converted into shares at 4.5 cents per share.
- The balance of the sum of $650,000 shall be drawn down after the full draw down of the $950,000 and the Note holder shall have the option to convert the same into ordinary shares at 5 cents a share within two years from 27 July 2006.

The fair value of the share options to be granted, in respect of the first drawdown, are estimated to be $85,556. At 30 June 2006, there were no options granted as the Company had not drawn any funds against the loan facility. Accordingly no cost or expense had been recorded in the financial statements to 30 June 2006.

Other than the matter discussed above, there has not arisen in the interval between the end of the financial year and the date of this report any item, transaction or event of a material and unusual nature likely, in the opinion of the directors of the Company, to affect significantly the operations of the consolidated entity, the results of those operations, or the state of affairs of the consolidated entity, in future financial years.

10. Likely developments

Information about likely developments in the operations of the Company and the consolidated entity and the expected results of those operations in future financial years has not been included in this report because disclosure of the information would be likely to result in unreasonable prejudice to the Company and the consolidated entity.

13. Non-audit services

During the year KPMG, the Company's auditor, has performed certain other services in addition to their statutory duties.

The board has considered the non-audit services provided during the year by the auditor and is satisfied that the provision of those non-audit services during the year by the auditor is compatible with, and did not compromise, the auditor independence requirements of the Corporations Act 2001 for the following reasons:

- all non-audit services were subject to the corporate governance procedures adopted by the Company and have been reviewed by the board to ensure they do not impact the integrity and objectivity of the auditor; and
- the non-audit services provided do not undermine the general principles relating to auditor independence as set out in Professional Statement F1 Professional independence, as they did not involve reviewing or auditing the auditor's own work, acting in a management or decision making capacity for the Company, acting as an advocate for the Company or jointly sharing risks and rewards.

Details of the amounts paid to the auditor of the Company, KPMG, and its related practices for audit and non-audit services provided during the year are set out below:

Revetec Holdings Limited (the "Company") is a company domiciled in Australia. The consolidated financial report of the Company comprises:

The initial application of AASB 7 and AASB 2005-10 is not expected to have an impact on the financial results of the Company and the consolidated entity as the standard and the amendment are concerned only with disclosures.

The initial application of AASB 2005-9 could have an impact on the financial results of the Company and the consolidated entity as the amendment could result in liabilities being recognised for financial guarantee contracts that have been provided by the Company and the consolidated entity. However, the quantification of the impact is not known or reasonably estimable in the current financial year as an exercise to quantify the financial impact has not been undertaken by the Company and the consolidated entity to date.

The financial report is prepared on the historical cost basis.

The preparation of a financial report in conformity with Australian Accounting Standards requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of policies and reported amounts of assets and liabilities, income and expenses. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and various other factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis of making the judgements about carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results may differ from these estimates. These accounting policies have been consistently applied by each entity in the consolidated entity.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period, or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

Judgements made by management in the application of Australian Accounting Standards that have a significant effect on the financial report and estimates with a significant risk of material adjustment in the next year are discussed in note 1(r).

The accounting policies have been applied consistently by all entities in the consolidated entity.

(c) Going concern

The financial report has been prepared on a going concern basis which contemplates the continuity of normal business activities and the realisation of assets and settlement of liabilities in the ordinary course of business.

At 30 June 2006, the consolidated entity had incurred an operating loss of $385,596 and the company had incurred an operating loss of $515,484. The consolidated entity and the company had net liabilities of $27,967 and had minimal cash reserves.

The company has prepared cash flow projections indicating that over the next 12 months the company can pay its debts as and when they fall due, after consideration of the following:

- The Company's arrangements with external parties are expected to provide assistance with reducing the research and development expenditure in relation to Revetec Holdings' technology.
- The Company is able to utilise funds available under a convertible loan facility, as disclosed in note 11, to enable the ongoing key operations to continue. If such funding is required to be drawn down, the Directors may curtail any operation as they see fit to reduce costs and expenditure. As at 2 October 2006 $350,000 had been drawn down using this facility.
- The company received the income tax refund of $248,648 on 28 August 2006.

Accordingly, the Directors are of the opinion that the going concern basis is appropriate for the preparation of the consolidated financial report. If the directors are unable to utilise the funding facility, or arrangements with external parties change, there is no certainty as to whether the consolidated entity may realise its assets and extinguish its liabilities in the normal course of business and at the amounts stated in this financial report.

(d) Basis of consolidation

(i) Reverse acquisition accounting

Under AIFRS the formation of the Revetec Holdings Limited Group has been accounted as a business combination.

In applying the requirements of AASB 3 "Business Combinations" to the Group:

- Revetec Holdings Limited is the legal parent entity of the Group; and
- Revetec Limited ("RL"), which is neither the legal parent nor legal acquirer, was deemed to be the accounting parent of the Group as a result of the restructure of the RL during the year ended 30 June 2006.

This reflects the requirements of AASB 3 that in situations where a number of existing entities are combined with a new entity, an existing entity shall be deemed to be the acquirer, subject to consideration of factors such as relative fair values of the entities involved in the transaction. This is commonly referred to as a reverse acquisition.

The consolidated financial information for the year ended 30 June 2006 incorporates the assets and liabilities of the entity, Revetec Holdings Limited, deemed to be acquired by RL, and the results of this entity for the period from which this entity is accounted for as being acquired by RL. The assets and liabilities of the entity acquired by RL were recorded at fair value while the assets and liabilities of RL were maintained at their book value. The impact of all transactions between entities in the Group is eliminated in full.

The impact on equity of treating the formation of the Group as a reverse acquisition is discussed in more detail in Note 23. The consolidated entity comparative amounts have been included based on the consolidated RL results for the year ended 30 June 2005 and financial position at 30 June 2005.

(ii) Subsidiaries

Subsidiaries are entities controlled by the Company. Control exists when the Company has the power, directly or indirectly, to govern the financial and operating policies of an entity so as to obtain benefits from its activities. In assessing control, potential voting rights that presently are exercisable or convertible are taken into account. The financial statements of subsidiaries are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date that control commences until the date that control ceases.

Investments in subsidiaries are carried at their cost of acquisition in the company's financial statements.

All business combinations are accounted for by applying the purchase method.

(iii) Transactions eliminated on consolidation

Intragroup balances and any unrealised gains and losses or income and expenses arising from intragroup transactions, are eliminated in preparing the consolidated financial statements.

(e) Property, plant and equipment

(i) Owned assets

Items of property, plant and equipment are stated at cost or deemed cost less accumulated depreciation (see below) and impairment losses (see accounting policy (g)).

Where parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, they are accounted for as separate items of property, plant and equipment.

(ii) Depreciation

Depreciation is charged to the income statement on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives of each part of an item of property, plant and equipment.

The estimated useful lives in the current periods are as follows:

- |                          |          |
|--------------------------|----------|
| • leasehold improvements | 15 years |
| • plant and equipment    | 4 years  |
| • fixtures and fittings  | 4 years  |
| • motor vehicles         | 5 years  |

The residual value, the useful life and the depreciation method applied to an asset are reassessed at least annually.

Notes to the consolidated financial statements

(f) Intangible assets

(i) Research and development

Expenditure on research activities, undertaken with the prospect of gaining new scientific or technical knowledge and understanding, is recognised in the income statement as an expense as incurred.

Expenditure on development activities, whereby research findings are applied to a plan or design for the production of new or substantially improved products and processes, is capitalised if the product or process is technically and commercially feasible and the consolidated entity has sufficient resources to complete development. The expenditure capitalised includes the cost of materials, direct labour and an appropriate proportion of overheads. Other development expenditure is recognised in the income statement as an expense as incurred. Capitalised development expenditure is stated at cost less accumulated amortisation and impairment losses (see accounting policy (g)).

(g) Impairment

The carrying amounts of the consolidated entity's assets, are reviewed at each balance sheet date to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists, the asset's recoverable amount is estimated.

For goodwill, assets that have an indefinite useful life and intangible assets that are not yet available for use, the recoverable amount is estimated at each balance sheet date.

An impairment loss is recognised whenever the carrying amount of an asset or its cash-generating unit exceeds its recoverable amount. Impairment losses are recognised in the income statement, unless an asset has previously been revalued, in which case the impairment loss is recognised as a reversal to the extent of that previous revaluation with any excess recognised through profit or loss.

Impairment losses recognised in respect of cash-generating units are allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to cash-generating units (group of units) and then, to reduce the carrying amount of the other assets in the unit (group of units) on a pro rata basis.

When a decline in the fair value of an available-for-sale financial asset has been recognised directly in equity and there is objective evidence that the asset is impaired, the cumulative loss that had been recognised directly in equity is recognised in profit or loss even though the financial asset has not been derecognised. The amount of the cumulative loss that is recognised in profit or loss is the difference between the acquisition cost and current fair value, less any impairment loss on that financial asset previously recognised in profit or loss.

Example Public Company Limited and its controlled entities

(i) Calculation of recoverable amount

The recoverable amount of the consolidated receivables carried at amortised cost is calculated as the present value of estimated future cash flows, discounted at the original effective interest rate (i.e. the effective interest rate computed at initial recognition of these financial assets). Receivables with a short duration are not discounted.

Impairment of receivables is not recognised until objective evidence is available that a loss event has occurred. Significant receivables are individually assessed for impairment. Impairment testing of significant receivables that are not assessed as impaired individually is performed by placing them into portfolios of significant receivables with similar risk profiles and undertaking a collective assessment of impairment. Non-significant receivables are not individually assessed. Instead, impairment testing is performed by placing non-significant receivables in portfolios of similar risk profiles, based on objective evidence from historical experience adjusted for any effects of conditions existing at each balance sheet date.

The recoverable amount of other assets is the greater of their fair value less costs to sell and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. For an asset that does not generate largely independent cash inflows, the recoverable amount is determined for the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs.

(ii) Reversals of impairment

Impairment losses, other than in respect of goodwill, are reversed when there is an indication that the impairment loss may no longer exist and there has been a change in the estimate used to determine the recoverable amount.

An impairment loss in respect of goodwill is not reversed.

An impairment loss in respect of receivable carried at amortised cost is reversed if the subsequent increase in recoverable amount can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment loss was recognised.

An impairment loss in respect of an investment in an equity instrument classified as available for sale is not reversed through profit or loss. If the fair value of a debt instrument classified as available-for-sale increases and the increase can be objectively related to an event occurring after the impairment loss was recognised in profit or loss, the impairment loss shall be reversed, with the amount of the reversal recognised in profit or loss.

An impairment loss is reversed only to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation or amortisation, if no impairment loss had been recognised.

(h) Trade and other receivables

Trade and other receivables are stated at their amortised cost less impairment losses (see accounting policy (g)).

(i) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash balances, short term bills and call deposits. Bank overdrafts that are repayable on demand and form an integral part of the consolidated entity's cash management are included as a component of cash and cash equivalents for the purpose of the statement of cash flows.

(j) Share capital*(i) Dividends

Dividends are recognised as a liability in the period in which they are declared.

(ii) Transaction costs

Transaction costs of an equity transaction are accounted for as a deduction from equity, net of any related income tax benefit.

(k) Convertible notes

Convertible notes that can be converted to share capital at the option of the holder, where the number of shares issued does not vary with changes in their fair value, are accounted for as compound financial instruments. Transaction costs that relate to the issue of a compound financial instrument are allocated to the liability and equity components in proportion to the allocation of proceeds. The equity component of the convertible notes is calculated as the excess of the issue proceeds over the present value of the future interest and principal payments, discounted at the market rate of interest applicable to similar liabilities that do not have a conversion option. The interest expense recognised in the income statement is calculated using the effective interest method.

(l) Interest-bearing borrowings

Interest-bearing borrowings are recognised initially at fair value less attributable transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, interest-bearing borrowings are stated at amortised cost with any difference between cost and redemption value being recognised in the income statement over the period of the borrowings on an effective interest basis.

(m) Trade and other payables

Trade and other payables are stated at their amortised cost.

(n) Revenue*(i) Goods sold and services rendered

Revenue from the sale of goods is recognised in the income statement when the significant risks and rewards of ownership have been transferred to the buyer. Revenue from services rendered is recognised in the income statement in proportion to the stage of completion of the transaction at the balance sheet date. The stage of completion is assessed by reference to surveys of work performed. No revenue is recognised if there are significant uncertainties regarding recovery of the consideration due, the costs incurred or to be incurred cannot be measured reliably, there is a risk of return of goods or there is continuing management involvement with the goods.

(ii) Government grants

Government grants are recognised in the balance sheet initially as deferred income when there is reasonable assurance that they will be received and that the consolidated entity will comply with the conditions attaching to them. Grants that compensate the consolidated entity for expenses incurred are recognised as revenue in the income statement on a systematic basis in the same periods in which the expenses are incurred. Grants that compensate the consolidated entity for the cost of an asset are recognised in the income statement as other income on a systematic basis over the useful life of the asset.

(o) Expenses

(i) Operating lease payments

Payments made under operating leases are recognised in the income statement on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease. Lease incentives received are recognised in the income statement as an integral part of the total lease expense and spread over the lease term.

(ii) Net financing costs

Net financing costs comprise interest payable on borrowings calculated using the effective interest method, dividends on redeemable preference shares, interest receivable on funds invested, dividend income, foreign exchange gains and losses, and gains and losses on hedging instruments that are recognised in the income statement. Borrowing costs are expensed as incurred and included in net financing costs.

Interest income is recognised in the income statement as it accrues, using the effective interest method. Dividend income is recognised in the income statement on the date the entity's right to receive payments is established which in the case of quoted securities is ex-dividend date. The interest expense component of finance lease payments is recognised in the income statement using the effective interest method.

(p) Income tax

Income tax on the profit or loss for the year comprises current and deferred tax. Income tax is recognised in the income statement except to the extent that it relates to items recognised directly in equity, in which case it is recognised in equity.

Current tax is the expected tax payable on the taxable income for the year, using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date, and any adjustment to tax payable in respect of previous years.

Deferred tax is provided using the balance sheet liability method, providing for temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts used for taxation purposes. The following temporary differences are not provided for: initial recognition of goodwill, the initial recognition of assets or liabilities that affect neither accounting nor taxable profit, and differences relating to investments in subsidiaries to the extent that they will probably not reverse in the foreseeable future. The amount of deferred tax provided is based on the expected manner of realisation or settlement of the carrying amount of assets and liabilities, using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date.

A deferred tax asset is recognised only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the asset can be utilised. Deferred tax assets are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realised.

Additional income taxes that arise from the distribution of dividends are recognised at the same time as the liability to pay the related dividend.

(q) Goods and services tax

Revenue, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of goods and services tax (GST), except where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable from the taxation authority. In these circumstances, the GST is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of the expense.

Receivables and payables are stated with the amount of GST included. The net amount of GST recoverable from, or payable to, the ATO is included as a current asset or liability in the balance sheet.

Cash flows are included in the statement of cash flows on a gross basis. The GST components of cash flows arising from investing and financing activities which are recoverable from, or payable to, the ATO are classified as operating cash flows.

(r) Accounting estimates and judgements

Management discussed with the Board of Directors the development, selection and disclosure of the consolidated entity's critical accounting policies and estimates and the application of these policies and estimates. The estimates and judgements that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year are discussed below.

Key sources of judgement and estimates

(i) Share based payments

At 30 June 2006 the Company had entered into a loan agreement (convertible notes) which provides for the granting of options upon funding being provided. An expense in relation to the fair value of the options has not been recorded at balance date as no options have been granted until funds are provided under the loan agreement. Notes 12 and 21 contains further information in respect of the loan agreement and the value of the share based payment.

(ii) Going concern

Provision for employee entitlements	(40,137)
Purchase consideration	203,000

- On 30 September 2006 Revetec Limited was subsequently transferred to the shareholders of Revetec Holdings Limited. On consolidation this has been reflected as a return of capital based on the fair value of the net assets of $471,192

23 Business combination – reverse acquisition

On 4 August 2005, Revetec Holdings Limited acquired all the shares in Revetec Limited as part of the restructure approved at the Extraordinary General Meeting of shareholders of Revetec Limited. The restructure provided for the shareholders of Revetec Limited to be issued with 190,887,848 ordinary shares in Revetec Holdings Limited.

Due to the circumstances surrounding this acquisition, AASB 3 Business Combinations requires that this acquisition be treated as a reverse acquisition whereby Revetec Limited is deemed to have acquired Revetec Holdings Limited, for accounting purposes.

The subsequent in-specie distribution on 30 September 2005 by Revetec Holdings Limited of the shares in Revetec Limited to the shareholders of Revetec Holdings Limited, has been treated as a return of capital to shareholders.

The acquisition had the following effect on the consolidated entity's assets and liabilities.

Had the reverse acquisition occurred on 1 July 2005, there would have been no change to the consolidated revenues or net profit for the year ended 30 June 2006.

24. Explanation of transition to AIFRS

As stated in note 1(a), these are the consolidated entity's first consolidated financial statements for part of the period covered by the first AIFRS annual consolidated financial statements prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards - AIFRS.

The accounting policies in Note 1 have been applied in preparing the consolidated financial statements for the year ended 30 June 2006, the comparative information for the year ended 30 June 2005, and the preparation of an opening AIFRS balance sheet at 1 July 2004 (the consolidated entity's date of transition).

In preparing its opening consolidated AIFRS balance sheet and comparative information for the year ended 30 June 2005, the consolidated entity has no material adjustments to amounts reported previously in financial statements prepared in accordance with its old basis of accounting (previous GAAP).

Change to AIFRS since 31 December 2005

In the company's consolidated interim financial report for the period 4 August 2005 to 31 December 2005, the directors considered the impact of AIFRS on the 31 December 2005 report and the comparative information.

The interim financial report was based on the management's interpretation of mandatory financial reporting requirements regarding AASB 3 Business combinations and the treatment of the business combination in acquiring the CCE design technology previously controlled by Revetec Limited.

In preparing the 30 June 2006 financial statements, management determined after further consideration of AASB 3 Business combinations that the restructure of Revetec Limited resulted in a reverse acquisition, as outlined in notes 1(d)(i) and 23.

Accordingly, management has corrected the impact in the 30 June 2006 financial statements by including the business combination restructure as a reverse acquisition.

The impact of the change at 31 December 2005 half year report, if the business combination was recognised as a reverse acquisition in that report, would have been the inclusion of comparative amounts and:

- no change in the net liabilities reported, and
- the consolidated loss would have reduced by $129,888 as a result of the recognition of the net profit of Revetec Limited in the period it formed part of the consolidated group.
